SCOV Needs You

by Lou Gard

SCOV needs you to VOLUNTEER! We all remember the iconic posters of Uncle Sam pointing and saying, "I Want You for the U.S. Army." We now have posters on all of the community bulletin boards reminding residents that you are wanted/needed to help SCOV grow. A volunteer is defined as a person who voluntarily undertakes or expresses a willingness to undertake a service.

If someone asks you to consider joining a committee, don't say no out of hand, look into that committee and see what that committee is all about. Consider it an honor to be asked, since someone has seen some attribute in you that you yourself may not recognize. We are fortunate to have a vast variety of skills within the residents of SCOV. We come from many backgrounds and experiences. We all came here with some sort of skill sets that may be needed, and can be used, on one committee or another to benefit SCOV.

There are many opportunities to volunteer in our community. Almost all of our committees need to replace some of their members on a yearly basis. There are over 20 committees in SCOV. There are five standing committees: Architectural Review, Finance and Budget, Food and Beverage, Golf Advisory and Properties. These committees are mandated by our governing documents. There are four Advisory Committees: AFC, Government Affairs, Long Range Planning and Marketing. There are eight service and support committees: Active Health, Ambassadors, Community Assistance, Consumer Referral, Gift Shop, Neighborhood Pride, Posse, and Tipster Editorial. Presently there are five ad hoc committees: Activity Center Planning, Cooperative Rights, Desert Oasis Upgrade, Future Housing and Greens Reconstruction. Two others are related to the selection of our Board: the Nominating and Election Committees. Please don't forget the Library volunteers. You can see there are plenty of opportunities to get involved.

There are many reasons to get involved on a committee, personal interest/expertise or just something to do, helping the community in some small or very large way. I will promise you among the new people you will meet, many will become good friends.

SCOV got to where it is, a leader in active adult communities in southern Arizona, by many residents giving their time for our betterment. It is your community and whatever you can do to aid the advancement can help hold or increase the property values.

If the Association had to pay staff to do the work that committees do, your HOA dues would be significantly higher.

When you are sitting at home wondering what to do next, there is probably a committee that could use your expertise.

Remember, SCOV needs you to VOLUNTEER.

General Manager - Mark Wade

Hats Off!

Over the past 11 months it has been my pleasure to work with a handful of committees as their staff liaison and with a handful of club leaders. They are indicative of the many, many others who serve this community as volunteers and leaders. As I watch these wonderful residents donate the most valuable item (time) they have, I am impressed by their willingness to do what they can for their fellow residents. They are always a strange mix that bring many different ideas to the table. They will be found meeting, planning, discussing, going on field trips, setting up, taking down, preparing, calling, emailing, sometimes agreeing, sometimes disagreeing, sometimes agreeing to disagree, researching, meeting to plan more meetings, sometimes eating, writing, but not very often playing. These people ride through the community in the middle of the night to help keep SCOV safe, the Posse. They visit other communities in a never-ending search for those things that will help our community be ready for the future, Long Range Planning. They do the research on turf agronomics and installation need, Greens Reconstruction Planning Committee. And I don't want to leave anyone out, but this article is way too small to list all of you. They do and do some more. There are hundreds of them. Their reasons for giving so much to the community are as varied as their thoughts and ideas, but there is one common golden thread that passes through this tapestry for all of them and that is their love for the SCOV community and its residents. The bricks and mortar are beautiful in this community but they would all be useless if we didn't have our volunteers. Hats off to our volunteers. Thank you for being the glue that holds our community together.

Wheels for Kids: Remember Your First Bike?

by Randy Moody

Imagine your childhood without a bicycle? Hard to think about, but it could be the plight of many kids in the Tucson area without a group of dedicated SCOV volunteers who collect, rehab and donate bicycles to young people and adults in need.

Wheels for Kids (WFK) got started ten years ago after an "a-ha" moment by SCOV resident Dick Swain who remembered a magazine article about a man who fixed old bikes for neighborhood kids. Active in the SCOV organization, Seniors for Kids, Dick was busy making model airplanes for the organization to give to disadvantaged children, when he thought maybe a refurbished bike might be a good gift too.

"Everyone remembers their first bike," is a favorite expression at WFK, the SCOV non-profit organization Dick started. Earlier this year it gave its 2,000th bike to Zach, who with his mother, Rosanna, was temporarily residing at the Gospel Rescue Mission. As recounted in an April 2017 article in The Explorer: "It means a lot to me and my son," Rosanna said. "[I]t shows there are really good people out there and God has blessed us. They are a blessing, giving back to us."

Swain needed help getting started and turned to then Seniors for Kids president Jean Sax and Vistoso Cyclists president Marge O'Hare. Through them he found volunteers who could fix bikes, and who knew charities through which they could be distributed. He solicited start-up funds from the Sun City Vistoso Foundation, the SCOV Community Assistance Center, and the SCOV Tennis Club.

SCOV played an important role in the start-up years. It continues to provide support in multiple ways and is critical to WFK's ongoing work.

There are a number of long-time volunteers including Harvey Ferguson, Pierce Cornelius, Jack Melville, Sharon Heaps, Phil Procida, Rick Haupt and Ernie Fisher who helped build the organization and served in multiple roles over the years. Key jobs include: parts purchasing and inventory management, bike inventory management, bike mechanic, pick-up and delivery, quality control and fundraising. WFK is a 501(c)3 charity with about 45 volunteers; 30 or so are mechanics.

The WFK process begins with bikes donated from around greater Tucson. There are 11 sites in the Tucson-Oro Valley area where used bikes can be dropped off. WFK also picks up bikes directly from donors. The drop-off sites and the service agencies to which the bikes are donated can be found on the WFK website: www.azwfk.org. WFK also has a Facebook page.

Happy WFK bike recipients.

One of the mechanics said, "I work on these bikes as if they were going to my grandkids." The mechanics repair or replace all components as necessary and make adjustments so the bike performs properly. A coat of polish is applied so the bike looks great for its new owner. "In many cases, the bikes are in better shape than when they were brand new." A quality control inspection is the final step. The Community Outreach team then works with designated charities around Tucson to place the bikes. A helmet is donated with each bike.

Kids are not the only recipients of the bikes. Waed was a refugee who had no way to get to work until the International Rescue Committee contacted WFK. "A bicycle helped turn his life around," Daniel Antoon, IRC case manager, said. "He can now get to work, get groceries for his family, be a productive person."

In early December last year, WFK got a call from one of its partner agencies, El Rio Health Center, about a woman with four children, three boys and a girl, who had relocated to Tucson and wanted so much for her kids to have bikes for Christmas. The WFK volunteers put other projects on hold and got the bikes ready on time. The little girl was so taken with her present she wanted to sleep with it because she was afraid someone would take it. The bike made such a difference in that child's life last Christmas.

To find out more about WFK, and hear more stories about those the organization has helped, you can come to an Open House on Thursday, November 16, 9-11 AM, Activity Center/ Navajo and Hohokam Rooms, and meet current volunteers—and volunteer yourself.

10% Rental Limit

The new process for establishing the 10% rental limit in SCOV is underway. Rental applications have been sent to all homeowners. If interested in being considered for one of the 249 rental properties in SCOV, those applications must be returned to SCOV by Friday, December 1, 2017. Also included in the mailing is a Rental Affidavit which will establish those properties qualifying as grandfathered, meaning those whose homes were rented a minimum of 28 days during the year preceding the passage of the initiative (March 28, 2017). Once the applications have been received, all applicants will receive notice of whether or not they qualified to be one of the 249 rentals in SCOV.

Happy Turkey Day

Once again we will gather with friends and relatives on Thanksgiving to give thanks for all we have. Many of us are very lucky since hurricanes, fires, floods and violence have been felt by so many.

You will see a big change in the lineup of coming events starting in January; in the mean time, we pay tribute to our veterans at SCOV on November 10. Since Veteran's Day is on Saturday we moved our event to Friday. The Oro Valley American Legion will put on a great show along with a welcome from the mayor of Oro Valley, Dr. Satish I. Hiremath. You won't want to miss the comedy of Cary Long on Saturday, November 11. See Coming Events on page 12.

Thinking of Listing Your Home?

If you are contemplating the sale of your house, please be aware that you need to arrange a Listing Inspection of the exterior of your home by the Architectural Compliance Team (ACT). You may arrange this by calling Katy or Karen in the Community Services office at 520-917-8058.

A member of the ACT will come to your house looking for such items as: enough landscape rock covering any bare soil; yard landscape pruned and free of weeds, plant debris and suckers; needed building repairs; house, fencing or gates needing painting; any tripping hazards on the sidewalk; window screens free from holes or sun-scorching, etc. These are just a few examples. Please refer to the Development Standards and the Master Declaration for complete requirements.

A copy of this inspection is either mailed or emailed to you. If you have deficiencies, and you correct them before you have an escrow, you may arrange for a re-inspection so that when our HOA reports to the Title Company, the property is given a clean bill of health. If a property has gone to escrow prior to any corrections, the violations will be listed in the compliance report and the buyer will inherit any deficiencies unless the seller has corrected them before closing.

A review of your property to see if the exterior is compliant with the governing documents can also be arranged if you are only "thinking" about selling your house and are not ready to commit to that step. This inspection is called a Courtesy Inspection and is arranged in the same way. However, these inspection results are handed directly to you and are not incorporated into your resident file. It gives you a heads up about what your property might need to ensure a smooth Listing Inspection which will still have to occur once you have decided to put the property on the market.

Do you read books in series, like JA Jance's Ali Reynolds series, and have trouble figuring out the chronological order? We have just made it easier. Library volunteer Christine Sullivan is adding that information to the records of all series books in our collection. When this major project is completed in the near future, she will have entered over 2,000 records. To see what this looks like, type the name of a series author like Stuart Woods into the search bar on our website and view the display. Or ask us to show you on your next trip to the Library.

New in fiction this month we have the latest by Sandford, Woods, Grisham, and Connelly. The Crown, Season 1 has finally been released in video and will arrive November 7. Our large print collection has a large number of new release bestsellers by authors including Jance, Grisham, Penny, Le Carre, DeMille, Follett, and many others.

Germes

Gym germes are in essence the same germes that are found on door knobs, sinks and handrails. One should not use the germ-phobia excuse as a reason to skip the gym as a whole. Being forewarned is being forearmed. When it comes to protecting yourself, and especially your immune system, from these grimy germes, for the most part just takes good common sense, meaning, don't touch your eyes, ears, or nose while at the gym. Good hygiene is a must; make sure to wash hands thoroughly before and after gym use. By attending the gym regularly you're likely to have a stronger immune system than someone who does not work out; therefore, you can resist germes better than the general population.

Gym etiquette is no longer about just re-stacking your weights when you are done lifting, but now it is wiping the perspiration drops you left behind on the head rest or when walking on the blue mats, think about where your shoes have been.

So next time when you see the laminated sign, "Please wipe down after use" staring at you as you approach the treadmill or hit the mats for some abdominal crunches, just do it.

Special Note From the Aquatic and Fitness Center (AFC)

Orientation on how to use the gym equipment will be held every Thursday at 1 PM, so stop in and sign up. Contact Lonnie Davis, AFC Coordinator, to discuss questions or problems with the AFC.

Tuesday, November 14, the AFC pool and spa will be closed for cleaning and shock treatment. It will reopen the following morning at the regular time.

Wednesday, November 15, the Desert Oasis Pool will be closed for cleaning and shock treatment and reopen the following morning at the regular time.

If you are wondering about your own fitness and health, consider that a simple cloth tape measure may be your best tool. Trainer and author Jon Benson (Fit Over 40) uses a waistline-to-height formula as a predictor of heart disease. Men: measure right below the navel; women just above the navel. Do not pull the tape measure tight. Then measure your height (without shoes) in inches.

Multiply your waist measurement by two. If the number is greater than your height, you are more likely to get heart disease. This is thought to be more predictive than BMI or cholesterol tests. Origins: www.senior-exercise-central.com

Landscaping

The definition of a hedge is: a fence or barrier formed by a line of closely spaced shrubs and performing a similar function to a screen wall or fence. Per the Master Declaration Section 4.18 a hedge may not be taller than 6 feet. A hedge within the 20-foot front setback may not be taller than 42 inches. This is not a new standard. It has been a part of our Master Declaration since the origin of Sun City. A Development Standard was passed in the past year that a shrub may not be taller than 6 feet that obstructs a neighbor's sightline.

Our plant list was edited by a professor of plant science at the U of A. It includes prohibiting the planting of mesquites, palo verde and oak trees. African Sumacs are prohibited by the town of Oro Valley. If you plant any of these varieties after they have been prohibited, you may be asked to remove it. They are prohibited due to allergens, height restrictions and the amount of debris they create. Please check the list before you change your landscaping.

Food and Beverage Advisory

Chair Barb McNeill bjmac68@gmail.com
Oct.-Jun., First Fri., 1 PM, The Views

Our mission statement is to advise management on how to further develop The Views Restaurant as a quality full-service restaurant amenity for the benefit of SCOV residents and their guests. We provide ideas to expand revenues/services as defined by requests and feedback from residents, without interfering in the operation of the facility.

There are several ways you can communicate your kudos, desires and concerns: The easiest is just telling the staff at the time of your visit. If wait staff is unable to handle the issue, a restaurant manager is generally available and can take immediate action.

The next way is to fill out a comment card, rating the staff and providing useful comments. These are reviewed by the general manager and evaluated for appropriate action. The SCOV website restaurant page can be used as a digital comment card.

Your patience is requested while the kitchen is being remodeled to improve your dining experience.

Friends of the Library

Lynne Davis lynnedavis100@gmail.com
Pat Brown patbrown630@gmail.com

November is a month for reflecting on all that we have, and our SCOV Library is a gem to have in our community. The volunteers, with Kate Cusumano's wise guidance, make the Library a welcoming space with lots of books and videos to enjoy as the evenings grow longer. Kate also decorates our library with themes of the month and keeps our end stacks creatively filled with new ideas to read and watch. And we can't forget Christine who thankfully contributes hours in cataloging books and videos. Join us in thanking Kate, Christine and the volunteers in this spirit of Thanksgiving.

We are moving toward a report of findings to the community and recommendations to the Board. Although this has been a difficult task, we feel as if we have a good sense of what the community is willing to accept to make sure that our homes continue to be marketable on into the future, while preserving our character and culture. You are welcome to attend to our meetings at any time.

Neighborhood Pride

Chair Tempe Johnson 520-825-6994
Third Tue., 2 PM, WC3

Sincere Thanks

Not often enough do we say "thank you" to the people around us. Perhaps, as homeowners, we should say an occasional thank you to our neighbor who borders our personal property. If, when he has his own yard cleaned up by a landscaper, he includes part of yours which may have a problem caused by his foliage, it just might deserve a thank you.

Neighborhood Pride issues thanks to all homeowners who:

- keep trees trimmed so stop signs are visible
- keep trees trimmed up high off sidewalks
- keep plants trimmed back off sidewalks
- keep their yards weed-free, neat and tidy
- make sure all lights are burning in house number plates

Thanksgiving is a good time to sincerely thank all homeowners who take pride in their own personal property and work diligently to keep our entire community a beautiful place in which to live.

Posse

Chair Larry Clark 520-404-7664 2larryclark@gmail.com
First Tue., 3 PM, Catalina Vista scovaz.com/committees/posse/ (must be logged in first)

Attention all Posse members: please attend the Fall Roundup meeting on Thursday, November 2, 9 AM in the Auditorium. A Continental breakfast will be served. Spouses, guests and anyone interested in the Posse are invited.

There will be a drivers education course presented by the SCOV insurance carrier which is required in order to operate any Posse vehicle after December 1, 2017. If you cannot attend the training, there will be an online computer version made available. Your squad leader will have the details on how to do the online drivers training. The insurance company also requires each driver to provide your date of birth (DOB) and driver's license number so they can do a driver record check. The records check and the training will enable SCOV to reduce the cost of insurance coverage on all vehicles. It may also reduce your personal vehicle insurance, check with your own company.

Properties

Chair Rich Oaks richoaks114@gmail.com
Third Thu., 9 AM, WC1

November marks the first anniversary of the startup of the SCOV solar project. The eight systems with a total capacity of 426 kilowatts are located throughout our common area parking lots and roofs. The systems were installed without cost to SCOV and saved us over $6,000 in electricity costs in the first year. The systems are on track to produce about 10 percent more energy than originally estimated. Only a few minor equipment problems have occurred. The systems have web-based monitoring that allows nearly real-time viewing of each system's power output, energy generation, and carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions avoided, as well as summary reports of daily and monthly performance. The solar project was investigated and directed by the Properties Committee over a three-year period. The Properties Committee works on a variety of tasks like this during the year. If you are interested in the activities of the Properties Committee, please plan to attend our next meeting on Thursday, November 16.

Superintendent - Michael Kropf

scvgolf@suncityorovalley.com 520-917-8063

The first part of November is when the golf course has dried up from the large amount of water used during overseeding. The ground is firm enough to allow the golf carts off the paths and on to the fairways. The last couple of years traffic was controlled using a system of blue stakes to direct golf carts on and off the paths. This would be a good time to refresh everyone on the rules associated with the blue stake gates to help minimize confusion.

Each hole, excluding the par 3s, will have a set of blue stakes at the start of the hole and at the end of the hole. These are gates where golf carts will pass through to both leave and return to the cart path. Once the cart leaves the path through the gate it will drive straight to the fairway. The cart will remain in the fairway until it either reaches the end of the fairway where it will leave through the exit gate, or if driving the rest of the fairway is unnecessary, then exit at any time at 90 degrees straight back to the cart path.

The goal of directing the golf carts onto the fairways is to keep the traffic in the roughs to a minimum. When the roughs go dormant in the winter, they can't recover and start to get smashed down. The system has worked well in the past, and the roughs held up much better during the winter season.

The increase in waste receptacles on garbage pickup day and proliferation of dog walkers indicates that the migration from summer quarters to winter quarters is in full swing. We welcome back our seasonal neighbors who have just arrived in time to join in a very busy November of tournament golf.

The season begins with one of the more popular major tournaments, the President's Cup. Match play begins Wednesday, November 8, and continues through Saturday, November 11. Thereafter, the remaining contestants will complete their final round November 15 playing a Stableford format to determine the winners. For golfers not playing in the President's Cup, tee times will be available.

A pre-Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot is scheduled for November 22, with low-net winners claiming prizes, and on November 29 we have a team event known fondly as the Heartless Scramble.

Moving ahead to December, remember to purchase your tickets for the BASH scheduled for December 6 to hear what's new at The Views for 2017-2018 and enjoy a catered lunch and the comradeship of like-minded golfers.

The Gift Shop of SCOV Presents the 9th Annual Arts and Crafts Festival

Once again it's time for our famous SCOV Arts and Crafts Festival. The famous part comes from the high quality of the arts and crafts produced each year by our fellow SCOV residents. As usual, the quality of the items will again be second to none. This year's event will be on Saturday, December 2, 9 AM-3 PM, and is sponsored by the SCOV Gift Shop. The most well-attended event of the year, it will be held in the comfort of our Activity Center in the Auditorium, Native American Rooms plus the Kachina Lounge. The Views Restaurant will be selling coffee and sweet rolls in the morning hours and a lunch combo in the afternoon in the Navajo Room. We take Visa and MasterCard as well as cash. There is a fabulous raffle with arts and crafts donated by our vendors. Please remember to donate nonperishable food or cash to IMPACT, our local food bank.

Darrell Martin's silver jewelry is always a popular choice for that special gift at this time of year. His unique designs of silver pendants are often accompanied by his handmade chains. The painstaking detail of his work show that special dedication he has to his craft. Darrell also makes handmade sterling silver beads which is a very difficult task to accomplish. Using these beads makes his jewelry truly unique.

Lori Nalewicki makes pottery pieces with outstanding attention to detail. She sometimes throws her pottery on a wheel as in the example to the right. She also uses a hand-built technique to make incredibly detailed pottery pieces. But wait, there's more: Lori is also a skilled jeweler. Using a variety of materials including semi-precious stones, silver toned and copper beads, Swarovski crystals and even rattlesnake bones, she creates unique pieces of jewelry.

Ever heard of a light in a bottle? Bev Koski actually makes them. Starting with an empty wine bottle, she carefully drills a hole in the side and inserts a string of lights. Then she adds a variety of decorations to fit the season or her mood. The variety of decorations she adds will complement almost anyone's décor and would make a great hostess gift this time of year. Be sure to come to the Arts and Crafts Festival 2017 and see these artists and over 50 more.

Thank You Corner

Many thanks to all for the help this summer making the bags that we will stuff for the Mammoth, Arizona, Children's Party. Thank you to the Quilters group who donated all the Christmas fabric left from the Quilt Show Treasure Table to make the bags. Thanking you, the community, in advance for your generosity in filling these bags. We were able to deliver 147 bags last year.

Lots going on already after most of our members have returned. The October window was a big hit as was the first social gathering of the season at the end of the month. Seeing new summer work and old friends has piqued new ideas and fresh perspective for future work. There has already been a class to create sleek nativity figures and more are in the works. The kilns are firing regularly and hugs for returning members abound. We are happy. It's a great Thanksgiving on our end of the corridor.

Japanese flower arranging (ikebana) is the art of arranging flowers, branch materials, grasses and leaves. At its core is the beauty resulting from a combination of color, shapes and graceful lines. More than simple floral decoration, it is a form of sculpture with plant materials.

The Thimblelenas annual meeting will be held Thursday, December 7, 1 PM, in the Sewing Room. The group will be voting on the slate of officers presented on November 7, and all groups under Thimblelenas will present their reports for the year. We will also present all the bags that we have filled for the Tri-Community Food Bank Children's Christmas Party on Sunday, December 17.

Thimblelenas is once again seeking donations for their children's bags to be given at the Tri-Community Food Bank Christmas Party. Dollar Tree (next to Home Depot) has many of the things that we put in the bags and each only costs $1. We are seeking toothpaste, small stuffed animals for boys and girls and small toys for both boys and girls. There is a box for these items in the Sewing Room.

Casa Amigas

Sigrid Flatness 425-213-6689

Mon. and Thu., 9 AM-Noon, Artisan Center/Sewing

One of the organizations that Casa Amigas contributes to is Teen Outreach Pregnancy Services (TOPS). TOPS provides young adults in Arizona with the education needed to make informed decisions about pregnancy, labor and delivery, parenting and sexual health. We provide handmade crocheted and knitted afgans, baby quilts, receiving blankets, burpees and hats. Since January, we have contributed almost 200 items. The teens earn points after attending parenting classes to receive these items.

TOPS tells us the teens are amazed there are people willing to make these items for them. Hearing comments like this is what keeps many of us sewing, crocheting and knitting away.

We can always use donations of cotton fabric and washable yarn. Please bring to the Sewing Room when someone is there and mark for Casa Amigas. Just don't leave outside the door if locked. Many thanks.

Rose Stapfer, a native of Arizona, grew up around Fort Huachuca and Tombstone. In her professional life, she was an account supervisor for ITT Corporation. When she moved to SCOV, she joined several arts clubs, including clay, sculpture, oil painting, pencil drawing, silversmithing and photography. She still participates in photography, and is an active silversmith. One of her interests throughout the years in her travels in the Southwest has been collecting silver jewelry, which led her to the Silversmithing and Lapidary Club in 1995. Rose particularly enjoys making pendants, bracelets, and rings. In the club, she has served as treasurer and secretary and is now the membership coordinator. Rose also serves as a trainer and a monitor to help beginning silversmiths on their projects. In this club we read and discuss selections of thought-provoking works of literature presented in anthologies by the Great Books Foundation. We offer great conversations about great ideas. We will continue reading short story selections from The Seven Deadly Sins, Even Deadlier. The deadly sin we will consider in November is lust. Should be interesting. On November 1 the selection is "Nuns at Luncheon" by Aldous Huxley. On November 15 we will read "Cowboys Are My Weakness" by Pam Houston. In December we will begin reading selections from Counterparts, an exciting Great Books collection featuring pairings of texts that complement or play off one another in interesting ways. Both books can be purchased from Amazon or the Great Books Foundation. Join us. We welcome all SCOV residents.

At our November 6 meeting we will discuss Hidden Figures by Margot Lee Shetterly. This is the story of a remarkable group of African American women mathematicians who overcame prejudice against their sex and race to make a real contribution to the development of aeronautics during WW II and then went on to provide a major contribution to the Space Race. The book focuses on three brilliant women: Dorothy Vaughan, Mary Jackson and Katherine Johnson, who with sheer determination, support of family and some of their white male colleagues, go on to achieve their goals in mathematics and engineering at NACA and later NASA.

December: Commonwealth by Ann Patchett. In what she calls her "first autobiographical novel," Ann Patchett draws on experiences from her own life in a blended family. She describes what happens when an illicit affair breaks up two families and recombines them as the guilty partners pursue a new marriage with two unrelated sets of children. The book follows the life of the intertwined family over the course of five decades and chronicles the disruptions and relationships that develop.

Poet Dorianne Laux's "Break" shows how one couple manages to escape from the realities of an overwhelming world.

"We put the puzzle together piece / by piece, loving how one curved / notch fits so sweetly with another. / A yellow smudge becomes / the brush of a broom, and two blue arms / fill in the last of the sky. / We patch together porch swings and autumn / trees, matching gold to gold. We hold / the eyes of deer in our palms, a pair / of brown shoes. We do this as the child / circles her room, impatient / with her blossoming, tired / of the neat house, the made bed, / the good food. We let her brood / as we shuffle through the pieces, / setting each one into place with a satisfied / tap, our backs turned for a few hours / to a world that is crumbling, a sky / that is falling, the pieces / we are required to return to."

Fri., 10-11:30 AM, AFC/Studio 2

Folk dancing is more fun than a treadmill, and it's an excellent exercise for balance, mindfulness, muscle and mood. For most dances we hold hands in a circle performing non-gymnastic steps to the sometimes strange but fascinating music and rhythms of diverse cultures, including our own. Neither partner nor prior experience needed. Typical dance session consists of 12-15 mostly easy folk dances preceded by instructions. Drop by to see if this internationally popular dance form is right for you and see us in action by doing a Google search on Folk Dance Sampler YouTube.

Pilates

Mary Ayers 520-638-7916 scov.pilates@gmail.com
Mon., 3 PM, Thu., 1:30 PM, AFC/Studio

Two excellent instructors are here at SCOV twice every week to teach Joseph Pilates classes. Their aim is to make each class participant, regardless of their exercise level, adept in achieving their maximum core strength. Core muscles run the entire length of your torso. The instructors especially stress the importance of strong abdominal muscles which help to stabilize our spine and pelvis. The Pilates exercises are simple. We begin classes with low-impact warm-up exercises, including stretching and deep breathing. The instructors modify the most strenuous exercises for anyone with limitations. Group mat classes result in benefits that can't be beat: better balance (fewer falls), more flexibility (joints move again), increased muscle tone, energy and well being. Please join us or come watch a class. Cost is $8/class and annual club dues are $20 pp. Call Mary with questions.

Mon., Nov. 13, 9 AM, Catalina Vista sundownersrvclub.wildapricot.org

Sundowners RV Club winter residents are coming home to roost. Not for long, though, after they see the great trips planned for fun places in Mexico, California, New Mexico, Utah and our own beautiful Arizona.

Our October meeting was led by Trip Chair, Jack McGrath, who presented a menu of RV trips to venues suited to small groups of RV'ers.

This November meeting welcomes more returning members and new and prospective members. The program will include signing up for trips as well as learning more about our new website, sundownersrvclub.wildapricot.org, and how to navigate and suggest upgrades.

Social chair, Marian Ellestad, reminds us of the delectable annual Chili Fest in November. Our first emailed colorful Chili Fest sign-up sheet has been sent...a great, new convenience for us.

Finally, last chance to pay your dues is at this meeting. Pay $20, check or cash, to Treasurer Vern Barr.

Understanding Prop 454: Naranja Park Bond

On November 7, Oro Valley voters will decide whether or not to authorize the issuance and sale of $17 million in general obligation bonds to fund the design, construction and equipping of multi-sport fields, baseball diamond fields, a playground and associated infrastructure and amenities at Naranja Park, 810 W. Naranja Drive. The bonds would be repaid through a secondary property tax, which sunsets after 20 years. Make sure you're ready for Election Day by learning the facts about this proposition, including project details and what it means for Oro Valley's taxpayers. Visit www.orovalleyaz.gov or submit your questions to ask@orovalleyaz.gov.
